The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share: The future is going to be better, and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better. Caught In A Trap For Darlene Roberts, a quiet drive home from work turned out to be the end of the road when a stranded motorist flagged her down. As soon as she stopped, Darlene was forcibly dragged from her car and viciously thrown to the ground, bound with cords and tightly gagged. A second attacker stepped into the scene, a woman in a hood and a mask. . . Hunted Like An Animal In the ensuing struggle, the woman's mask slipped off, revealing the face of Darlene's husband's ex-wife, Barbara Ann Roberts. Darlene broke away, running for her life. The couple pursued her across a field until they found her hiding in the grass. A shotgun was aimed--and fired--point blank. Later, Darlene was discovered floating in a pond. . . Dead In The Water Who fired the fatal shot? The bitter ex-wife? Or her lover and accomplice, millionaire neurosurgeon Dr. Robert Schiess III? Only one of them would be convicted of murder in this disturbingly twisted tale of lovers, cheaters, and killers in a small Alabama town. . . With 16 Pages of Revealing Photos Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world. To the fan, the rodeo cowboy is the distinctly American embodiment of the romantic Old West. But to the young men who live the profession, the realities are modest pay, continuous travel, and the constant threat of injury. While he was the Denver bureau chief of the New York Times, Dirk Johnson spent a year on the professional rodeo circuit with cowboys, watching them try to hang on to bucking horses and Brahma bulls?and to wives and livelihoods that seemed only one fall away from disappearing. Biting the Dust covers the circuit?s biggest events in Denver, the capital of the New West, to small towns on the Great Plains like McCook, Nebraska, where rodeo continues to thrive even as the population shrinks. Johnson takes the reader beyond sentimental visions of the rodeo cowboy and the American West and provides an unforgettable and authentic story of the rodeo today. The most trustworthy source of information available today on savings and investments, taxes, money management, home ownership and many other personal finance topics. Carol Janet (CJ) Lincoln is leading the idyllic American life. Well into a successful and rewarding career at the Federal Bureau of Investigations, married to a highly respected County Sheriff, she is just beginning to seriously and privately entertain thoughts of starting a family. The beautiful CJ and husband Broderick have been so immersed in their careers that having children seemed to be far into the future, if at all. The two professional law enforcers balance an unshakeable love for one another and an unbreakable dedication to their professions. Before CJ can approach Broderick with her deep desire to finally be a mother, their lives are ripped explosively apart. A madman CJ helped to send to prison has escaped and his cohort from the earlier crime spree is now loose as well. The escapees vow revenge on CJ and anyone close to her. At the same time, forces within the bureau itself would like to see CJ fail. Can CJ's confidence and inner strength, combined with uncommon crime-fighting skills carry her through the mayhem and tragedy that awaits?
